

BREAST FEEDING WEEK PROGRAM

Theme was "Enabling Breastfeeding: Making a Difference for Working Parents"

The Child Health Nursing Department of Narayana College of Nursing, Nellore organized a Breastfeeding Week program on 01.08.2024 and 07.08.2024 in pediatric OPD, NMCH, and Nellore from 9am to 12pm. The theme was "Enabling Breastfeeding: Making a Difference for Working Parents." The main objective was to promote awareness about the importance of exclusive breastfeeding. Students performed health education sessions, role plays, and poster presentations. Mothers were educated on breastfeeding techniques and its long-term benefits. The program successfully encouraged community participation and awareness.

IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM

Theme was “Healthy Children, Brighter Tomorrow”

The Child Health Nursing Department of Narayana College of Nursing organized an Immunization Week Awareness Program to highlight the importance of vaccinations. 04.03.2024 in pediatric OPD, NMCH, Nellore from 9am to 12pm. The program aimed to educate students, healthcare professionals, and the community about vaccine-preventable diseases and immunization schedules. Interactive sessions, workshops, and health talks were conducted by nursing students and faculty members. Immunization drives were carried out to ensure children and pregnant women received their vaccinations. The program effectively raised awareness about the life-saving benefits of immunization and increased community participation. It emphasized the role of vaccines in protecting children from preventable diseases and promoting public health.

SAVE GIRL CHILD PROGRAM

Theme was "Save the Girl Child, Educate the Girl Child"

The Child Health Nursing Department at Narayana College of Nursing organized a "Save Girl Child" awareness program 22.08.2024 9am to 12Pm to promote gender equality and highlight the importance of girl child education and health. The program aimed to educate students, healthcare professionals, and the local community about the rights and welfare of the girl child. Activities included informative sessions, poster presentations, and interactive discussions led by nursing students and faculty members. The program successfully raised awareness and encouraged community participation in supporting the well-being of the girl child. It emphasized the role of education, healthcare, and social support in empowering girls and ensuring their rights. The initiative contributed to fostering a more inclusive and supportive environment for girls in the community.

SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAM

Theme was "Promoting Health and Hygiene among School Children"

The Child Health Nursing Department at Narayana College of Nursing conducted a School Health Awareness Program to promote health education among school children. "Promoting Health and Hygiene among School Children" 10.04.2024 9am to 12pm. The program aimed to raise awareness about hygiene, nutrition, and common childhood illnesses. Nursing students and faculty members conducted interactive sessions and health screenings in local schools. Educational materials were distributed to students and teachers to reinforce healthy practices. The initiative successfully engaged the community and contributed to improved health awareness among children. The program emphasized the importance of early health education in fostering lifelong healthy habits.

SCHOOL HEALTH SCREENING PROGRAM

Theme was "Early Detection, Lifelong Health"

The Child Health Nursing Department at Narayana College of Nursing conducted a comprehensive School Health Screening Awareness Program to promote early detection and prevention of health issues among school children. 11.04.2024 9am to 12Pm. Theme was "Early Detection, Lifelong Health" The program aimed to educate students, teachers, and parents about common health concerns in children and the importance of regular health screenings. Nursing students and faculty members performed health assessments, provided health education, and distributed informative materials. The initiative successfully raised awareness and encouraged proactive health management in the school community. It emphasized the role of early intervention in ensuring the well-being and academic success of children.

SPECIAL NUTRITIONAL PROGRAM

Theme was "Nourishing Futures: Promoting Healthy Nutrition for Children"

The Child Health Nursing Department at Narayana College of Nursing conducted a Special Nutritional Awareness Program to educate the community on the importance of balanced nutrition for children. Theme was "Nourishing Futures: Promoting Healthy Nutrition for Children" 07.09.2024 9am to 12Pm. The program aimed to raise awareness about healthy eating habits, the significance of proper nutrition in child development, and the prevention of malnutrition. Nursing students and faculty members delivered informative sessions, distributed educational materials, and engaged with parents and caregivers to promote nutritional awareness. The initiative successfully encouraged the adoption of healthier dietary practices among families. It emphasized the role of nutrition in enhancing the overall health and well-being of children.

