Visit to health care innovation labs report

On July 14, 2023, a visit to the Health Care Innovation Lab at Narayana College of Nursing was organized, involving Shaik Reshma from Narayana Medical College, Dr. P. Prathyusha from Narayana Medical College, Mrs. Kumari, Professor, Narayana College of Nursing, Mrs. Shanmuga Vadivu, Professor, Narayana College of Nursing, and the 3rd-year B.Sc. Nursing students from Narayana College of Nursing. The visit aimed to expose the students to the latest innovations in healthcare technology and its application in patient care. During the visit, participants explored cutting-edge medical devices, healthcare automation systems, and technology-driven solutions designed to improve clinical efficiency and patient outcomes.

The 3rd-year nursing students had the opportunity to interact with experts, learn about the integration of innovation in healthcare, and observe the practical implications of new technologies in hospital settings. The visit was both educational and inspiring, encouraging students to think critically about the future of healthcare and their roles in fostering a safer and more innovative healthcare environment. Faculty members emphasized the importance of staying updated with advancements in healthcare to deliver high-quality patient care. Overall, the visit provided invaluable exposure to both students and faculty, reinforcing the significance of innovation in nursing and healthcare practices. 98 students were visited the labs

Report on women in entrepreneurship

On 26th August Narayana College of Nursing organized a session on "Women and Entrepreneurship" with esteemed speakers Dr. D.R. Anusha from the Department of Neurology, Narayana Medical College, and Dr. B. Vanaja Kumari, Professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The session aimed to empower and inspire women in healthcare to explore entrepreneurial opportunities and leadership roles, emphasizing the importance of innovation and independence in professional growth.

Dr. D.R. Anusha, assistant professor, Narayana medical college she delivered a motivational talk on the growing significance of women in entrepreneurship, especially in the healthcare sector. Drawing from her experience in neurology, she discussed the various challenges women face in balancing clinical duties and entrepreneurial ambitions. She highlighted the increasing role of women in medical innovation, research, and business ventures in healthcare, encouraging participants to take advantage of the growing support for female entrepreneurs in the form of grants, mentorship programs, and incubation centers.

Dr. B. Vanaja Kumari focused on the unique contributions that nursing professionals can make to entrepreneurship. She discussed how nurses, with their hands-on clinical experience and understanding of patient needs, are well-positioned to develop healthcare innovations and start

Report on Entrepreneurship and Innovation as Career Opportunity

On 22nd September a workshop on "Entrepreneurship and Innovation as a Career Opportunity" was held at Narayana College of Nursing, featuring distinguished speakers Dr. Bhavana from the Department of Neurology, Narayana medical college Mr. K. Devi Shankar from the Department of Anatomy, Narayana medical college and Mrs. Subhashini, Associate Professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The workshop aimed to enlighten students and professionals on the potential career paths in entrepreneurship and the significance of innovation in the healthcare field.

Dr. Bhavana opened the session by discussing the role of innovation in healthcare, particularly in the field of neurology. She emphasized how technological advancements and creative problem-solving can lead to entrepreneurial ventures that improve patient care and healthcare delivery. She encouraged participants to look beyond traditional roles and to explore opportunities for creating startups, especially in medical technology, rehabilitation, and patient-centered innovations. Dr. Bhavana shared her experiences of working in an evolving medical field, highlighting the entrepreneurial mindset required to transform ideas into impactful solutions.

Mr. K. Devi Shankar, from the Department of Anatomy, focused on the entrepreneurial possibilities within medical education and anatomical sciences. He spoke about the importance of innovation in educational tools, such as virtual anatomy labs and 3D medical models, which can revolutionize teaching methodologies. His presentation encouraged participants to think creatively about addressing gaps in medical education and research, offering insights on how to turn these ideas into successful entrepreneurial ventures.

Mrs. Subhashini, Associate Professor, Narayana College of Nursing, concluded the workshop by discussing how nurses can be agents of innovation and entrepreneurship. She highlighted the practical knowledge nurses possess about patient care and healthcare systems, making them uniquely positioned to develop products or services that address unmet needs in healthcare. She also provided guidance on how nursing professionals can navigate the challenges of starting their own business, from securing funding to marketing healthcare innovations.

The workshop ended with a dynamic interactive session, where attendees discussed their entrepreneurial ideas, asked for advice, and networked with the speakers. The event inspired participants to explore entrepreneurship as a rewarding career path, underscoring the importance of innovation in advancing healthcare and improving patient outcomes.

Motivational Session Report

A motivational session led by Dr. Smitha, an International Ph.D. scholar from the Department of Mental health Nursing at Narayana college of Nursing, was highly inspiring for students and faculty alike. Dr. Smitha journey and academic achievements are a testament to the power of perseverance and dedication, making her an ideal speaker to address the importance of education and pursuing advanced degrees.

Key Points of the Session:

1. Dr. Smitha has shared her personal journey, from her initial academic steps to becoming a Ph.D. scholar.
2. She discussed the significance of obtaining higher degrees, such as a Ph.D., in today's competitive world, particularly in the field of nursing.
3. Dr. Smitha was encouraged students and faculty to embrace lifelong learning, reminding them that education is a continuous journey

40 Students Were Participated In This Session

On 25th November, Narayana College of Nursing hosted an inspiring motivational session titled "My Story - Motivational Session by Successful Entrepreneur/Start-up Founder," led by Professor Latha. The session aimed to motivate and encourage students to explore entrepreneurial opportunities in the healthcare and nursing sectors.

Professor Latha, a respected figure in nursing education, shared her personal journey and experiences as an educator and entrepreneur. She discussed the challenges she faced in her career, emphasizing the importance of perseverance, self-belief, and hard work. Drawing from her entrepreneurial experiences, she highlighted the significance of identifying gaps in the healthcare system and developing innovative solutions to address them.

Throughout the session, Professor Latha stressed the importance of passion, creativity, and a problem-solving mindset for aspiring entrepreneurs. She encouraged students to think beyond conventional career paths in nursing and to consider creating their own businesses or startups that could contribute to healthcare advancements. She also provided practical advice on leadership, time management, and navigating the hurdles of starting a new venture.

The session concluded with an interactive manner, where students had the opportunity to ask questions and seek advice on pursuing entrepreneurship. Professor Latha's story left a lasting impact on the audience, inspiring them to take bold steps toward achieving their dreams and

Date & Time	16 th December 2023
Venue	Seminar Hall, Narayana college of Nursing

Session report

16th December, Narayana College of Nursing organized a seminar on “Design Thinking, Critical Thinking, and Innovation Design,” featuring key speakers Dr. K. Ramalingam from the Department of Biochemistry, Narayana Medical College, and Professor Nathiya from Narayana College of Nursing. The seminar aimed to introduce students and faculty to the concepts of design thinking and critical thinking, and how these approaches can drive innovation in healthcare.

Dr. K. Ramalingam began the session by explaining the principles of design thinking, a problem-solving approach that focuses on understanding users' needs, ideating creative solutions, and testing prototypes. He emphasized the importance of empathy and collaboration in the healthcare sector, highlighting how design thinking can be applied to improve patient care, develop new medical technologies, and address complex challenges in the healthcare system. Dr. Ramalingam also shared examples of successful innovations in biochemistry and medical research that were driven by design thinking processes.

Professor Nathiya followed with a presentation on critical thinking and its essential role in nursing practice. She discussed how nurses must regularly apply critical thinking to assess patients, make clinical decisions, and ensure patient safety. She stressed that critical thinking is a key component of innovation, as it allows healthcare professionals to evaluate problems from multiple perspectives and find effective solutions. Professor Nathiya encouraged nursing students to cultivate these skills, not only to excel in their careers but also to contribute to innovative healthcare practices.

The seminar concluded with discussions on innovation design, where both speakers engaged the audience in brainstorming activities, encouraging them to think about real-world healthcare problems and how innovative solutions can be developed through the integration of design thinking and critical thinking. The interactive session allowed students and faculty to collaborate, share ideas, and explore how they could apply these concepts in their academic and professional work.

Overall, the seminar was highly informative and inspiring, equipping participants with valuable tools and perspectives on fostering innovation in healthcare through design and critical thinking approaches.

Session Report

On 24th December, Narayana College of Nursing hosted an inspiring session titled “A Successful Story of My Own Patent Process”, presented by Dr. Kumari, a distinguished professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The session aimed to motivate students and faculty by sharing Dr. Kumari's personal journey of successfully developing and securing a patent for her healthcare innovation.

Dr. Kumari began by outlining the initial stages of her invention, which stemmed from her experience in nursing and identifying a critical need in patient care. She explained how she recognized a gap in existing healthcare practices and embarked on a mission to develop a practical solution. Her innovation, designed to improve patient outcomes and streamline nursing procedures, went through multiple phases of ideation, research, and development.

She detailed the patent application process, including the challenges she faced in documenting her invention, meeting legal requirements, and navigating the complex patent laws. Dr. Kumari shared valuable insights on how to approach patenting, emphasizing the importance of thorough research, collaboration with legal experts, and persistence. She also discussed the financial aspects of filing a patent, such as funding options and grants that helped her during the process.

Dr. Kumari's story highlighted the importance of perseverance, innovation, and a willingness to overcome obstacles. She encouraged students and faculty to explore their own ideas and not shy away from the patent process, despite its complexity. The session concluded with an interactive where attendees sought advice on how to turn their own ideas into potential patents.

Her successful patent journey served as a powerful example of how healthcare professionals, particularly in nursing, can contribute to advancing healthcare through innovation. Dr. Kumari's experience inspired participants to think creatively and pursue their own entrepreneurial ventures in the healthcare field.

SESSION REPORT

On 24th December Narayana College of Nursing organized an Exposure and Field Visit for Problem Identification, led by Dr. M. Vijayalakshmi and Mrs. Megiline Bose. The purpose of the field visit was to help nursing students develop a deeper understanding of real-world healthcare challenges by identifying problems in clinical settings and community healthcare environments. This initiative aimed to foster critical thinking and problem-solving skills, which are essential for developing innovative solutions in patient care.

Dr. M. Vijayalakshmi began the visit by briefing the students on the objectives of the exercise, emphasizing the importance of identifying gaps in healthcare delivery, patient management, and resource utilization. She explained how observation and analysis in actual healthcare settings provide valuable insights into areas that need improvement, which can serve as a foundation for future innovations or research projects.

Mrs. Megiline Bose guided the students during the field visit, which took place at various healthcare facilities and community health centers. Students observed day-to-day operations, patient interactions, and healthcare practices while identifying issues such as resource shortages, communication barriers, patient safety concerns, and inefficiencies in the healthcare workflow.

Under the mentorship of both Dr. Vijayalakshmi and Mrs. Bose, the students were encouraged to take detailed notes and engage with healthcare staff to better understand the root causes of these problems.

The field visit concluded with a reflection session, where students presented their findings and shared insights on the healthcare challenges they identified. Dr. Vijayalakshmi and Mrs. Megline Bose provided feedback, helping students to refine their observations and think critically about potential solutions. They also emphasized the importance of ongoing exposure to real-world healthcare settings to continually identify problems and innovate solutions.

Activity Name	Workshop on Entrepreneurship Skill, Attitude and Behaviour Development
Date & Time	23 rd March 2024

SESSION REPORT

On 23rd Narayana College of Nursing conducted a workshop titled "Entrepreneurship Skill, Attitude, and Behaviour Development", featuring insightful sessions by Dr. P. Madhurima and Dr. Anjani Devi. The workshop aimed to equip students and faculty with the necessary entrepreneurial skills, mindset, and behaviors essential for starting and successfully managing healthcare ventures.

Dr. P. Madhurima, a well-respected figure in the field of entrepreneurship development, opened the workshop by discussing the key skills required for entrepreneurship in healthcare, such as critical thinking, innovation, risk management, and financial literacy. She emphasized the importance of developing a broad set of skills that go beyond clinical knowledge to include business acumen, leadership, and strategic planning. Dr. Madhurima provided practical examples of successful healthcare entrepreneurs and shared insights on how to navigate the challenges of launching and managing healthcare startups.

Dr. Anjani Devi followed with an engaging session on entrepreneurial attitude and behavior, stressing that a positive and resilient attitude is as important as technical skills. She explained that successful entrepreneurs possess a growth mindset, are adaptable, and willing to learn from failures. Dr. Anjani Devi also discussed how cultivating a proactive approach and embracing innovation can lead to entrepreneurial success in the healthcare industry. She encouraged students to think creatively and explore unmet needs in healthcare, turning these opportunities into business ideas.

The workshop concluded with interactive activities where participants engaged in role-playing scenarios to practice their entrepreneurial decision-making skills and develop solutions for hypothetical healthcare challenges. Both speakers guided the participants in evaluating their strengths and weaknesses in relation to entrepreneurship, helping them build the confidence to pursue their own ventures.

Overall, the workshop on "Entrepreneurship Skill, Attitude, and Behaviour Development" was an enriching experience that inspired attendees to embrace entrepreneurial thinking, develop essential skills, and nurture a mindset that can drive success in the evolving healthcare landscape.

Activity Name	Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Awareness Workshops
Date & Time	18/05/2024

SESSION REPORT

On August 22, 2024, Narayana College of Nursing conducted an Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Awareness Workshop, led by Dr. Manoj Kumar Singh from Narayana Medical College and Mrs. Pavithra, Associate Professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The workshop aimed to enhance awareness among nursing students and faculty about the importance of intellectual property rights in the healthcare sector.

Dr. Manoj Kumar Singh provided a detailed overview of IPR, highlighting its significance in protecting medical innovations, research, and technological advancements. He emphasized the legal aspects of securing patents, trademarks, and copyrights, particularly in the context of healthcare. Mrs. Pavithra focused on how nurses can play a vital role in healthcare innovation and the process of patenting their creative ideas, devices, and procedures. The workshop inspired participants to explore innovative solutions and understand the legal framework to protect their intellectual property.

SESSION REPORT

On June 15, 2024, Narayana College of Nursing conducted a Mentoring Session on Design Thinking and Its Application to Education, led by Dr. Sai Sravan Kumar from Narayana Medical College and Mrs. Subhashini, Associate Professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The session aimed to introduce students and faculty to the concept of design thinking and explore how it can be applied to improve educational practices and learning experiences.

Dr. Sai Sravan Kumar began the session by explaining the principles of design thinking, a user-centered approach to problem-solving that emphasizes empathy, ideation, and iterative testing. He provided examples of how design thinking has been successfully implemented in medical education to enhance learning and patient care outcomes. Dr. Kumar encouraged participants to view challenges in education as opportunities for innovation and to think creatively about solutions that can improve the student experience.

Mrs. Subhashini then discussed the practical application of design thinking in nursing education, highlighting how it can be used to develop new teaching methods, create student-centered learning environments, and improve critical thinking skills. She guided students through interactive exercises, allowing them to brainstorm ways to redesign aspects of their own educational experiences using design thinking principles.

The session concluded with an open discussion, where participants shared their ideas and received feedback from the mentors. The mentoring session provided valuable insights into how design thinking can transform education, inspiring students and faculty to apply these innovative approaches to their academic and professional growth.

SESSION REPORT

On June 16, 2022, mentorship sessions were held with healthcare innovators and successful entrepreneurs from Narayana Medical College and Narayana College of Nursing. The mentors included Dr. P. Venkatesh, Dr. A. Dinesh Reddy, and Dr. Kumari, who shared their experiences and expertise with students and healthcare professionals. The sessions focused on fostering innovation, leadership, and entrepreneurship within the healthcare sector. Dr. Venkatesh spoke about the importance of integrating technology in healthcare and the potential for entrepreneurial ventures in this field. Dr. Reddy emphasized leadership in clinical practice and how visionary thinking can drive healthcare change, while Dr. Kumari highlighted the growing role of nurses in leading innovations in patient care. These mentorship sessions offered valuable insights and inspired participants to explore the opportunities available in healthcare innovation, leadership, and entrepreneurship.

SESSION REPORT

On July 30, 2022, a seminar on "Industry-Academia Collaboration" was held at Narayana College of Nursing, featuring distinguished speakers Dr. Suresh Reddy, Dr. Hemalatha, and Dr. Kannagi, Professor, Narayana College of Nursing. The seminar focused on the importance of bridging the gap between academic institutions and the healthcare industry to foster innovation and enhance educational outcomes. Dr. Suresh Reddy discussed the mutual benefits of collaboration, emphasizing how academic research can lead to practical solutions for industry challenges. Dr. Hemalatha highlighted the need for integrating real-world industry practices into the academic curriculum to better prepare students for future roles in healthcare. Dr. Kannagi underscored the role of nursing professionals in such collaborations, particularly in advancing clinical practices and improving patient care. The event provided valuable insights into how academia and industry can work together to drive healthcare advancements and professional growth.

Session report

On September 28, 2022, a seminar on promoting interdisciplinary research projects was held at Narayana Medical College. The event featured key speakers Dr. M. Saritha from Narayana Medical College and Dr. Latha from Narayana College of Nursing. The seminar highlighted the importance of collaboration across various disciplines in healthcare research to address complex medical challenges. Dr. M. Saritha emphasized how combining expertise from medicine, nursing, technology, and other fields can lead to more comprehensive and innovative research outcomes, ultimately improving patient care.

Dr. Latha discussed the critical role of nursing professionals in interdisciplinary research, particularly in areas such as patient safety and healthcare delivery innovations. The seminar encouraged participants to explore collaborative research opportunities, promoting a more integrated approach to solving healthcare issues.

Session report

A session on "Funding and Incubation Support" was held at Narayana Medical College, featuring Dr. M. Hemalatha and Dr. Charan from Narayana Medical College, along with Mrs. Kumari from Narayana College of Nursing. The session focused on providing insights into how healthcare professionals and aspiring entrepreneurs can access funding and incubation support to turn innovative ideas into successful ventures. Dr. M. Hemalatha outlined various funding opportunities available for healthcare startups, including grants, venture capital, and government programs aimed at supporting innovation in the healthcare sector. Dr. Charan discussed the incubation process, detailing how startups can benefit from mentorship, resources, and infrastructure during the early stages of development. Mrs. Kumari emphasized the role of nursing professionals in leading healthcare innovation and encouraged participants to explore entrepreneurial avenues. The session provided valuable information on navigating the challenges of funding and incubation, helping participants understand how to bring their healthcare innovations to market successfully.

SESSION REPORT

January 31, 2023, Narayana College of Nursing organized a Workshop on Design Thinking, featuring Dr. Sarada Priyanka from Narayana Medical College and Mrs. K. Kantha, Professor at Narayana College of Nursing. The workshop aimed to introduce participants to the principles and applications of design thinking in healthcare and education.

Dr. Sarada Priyanka opened the session by explaining the key components of design thinking, including empathy, ideation, and prototyping, and illustrated how these concepts can drive innovation in patient care and nursing practices. She emphasized the importance of understanding user needs and developing creative solutions to enhance healthcare delivery. Following this, Mrs. K. Kantha led practical exercises that engaged students in collaborative problem-solving activities, encouraging them to identify real-world challenges in healthcare and brainstorm creative solutions. The interactive format allowed participants to apply design thinking methodologies, fostering a mindset of innovation and collaboration essential for the evolving landscape of healthcare. The workshop concluded with a discussion on the potential impact of design thinking in improving nursing education and patient care practices.

Session report

On March 24, 2023, Narayana College of nursing held an event to initiate Student Innovation Clubs, aimed at fostering creativity and collaboration among students in the medical and nursing fields. Esteemed speakers, Dr. B. Ashok Kumar and Dr. Latha, emphasized the importance of innovation in healthcare education. Dr. Ashok highlighted how innovative practices can enhance patient care and shared success stories of creative solutions leading to improved health outcomes. Dr. Latha focused on the value of interdisciplinary collaboration, advocating for practical learning experiences to empower students. The event included breakout sessions where participants brainstormed ideas for potential club projects, ensuring that the clubs align with student interests. This initiative marks a significant step towards nurturing a culture of innovation and preparing future healthcare leaders. Moving forward, the establishment of student-led committees will facilitate the formation of these clubs, which will hold regular meetings to discuss progress and collaborate on impactful projects.

Seminar on patient safety innovation challenges report

On May 6th, 2023, Narayana College of Nursing organized a seminar on "Patient Safety Innovation Challenges" aimed at raising awareness about the critical need for improving patient safety in healthcare. Mrs. Latha, professor, Narayana college of Nursing focused on innovative approaches and strategies to address existing challenges in patient care, emphasizing the importance of reducing medical errors, improving communication, and adopting new technologies in clinical settings. Esteemed speaker from Narayana medical college Mrs. Sindhu Bhargavi, professor, Narayana medical college, shared her insights on the latest advancements in patient safety practices and the role of nurses in fostering a culture of safety. The seminar encouraged active participation from nursing students and professionals, who engaged in discussions and proposed solutions for enhancing patient care quality and safety.

REPORT ON MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION

On 8th May, Narayana College of Nursing hosted a seminar on "Medical Technology and Innovation," featuring prominent speakers Dr. Latha, Professor, Narayana College of Nursing, and Dr. B. Navya, Assistant Professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. The seminar aimed to highlight the role of technological advancements and innovation in improving healthcare delivery, with a special focus on their impact in nursing and obstetrics.

Dr. Latha, Professor, Narayana college of nursing. Addressed the audience on the importance of integrating technology into nursing practice, emphasizing how innovations such as electronic health records (EHRs), telehealth, and patient monitoring systems are transforming nursing care. She also discussed how nurses can be pioneers in implementing technology to enhance patient outcomes, safety, and overall healthcare quality.

Dr. B. Navya delivered an insightful presentation on the latest technological innovations in obstetrics and gynecology, such as advancements in fetal monitoring, minimally invasive surgeries, and reproductive health technologies. She highlighted how these innovations are improving maternal and neonatal care, reducing complications, and providing better treatment options for women. Dr. Navya also stressed the importance of staying updated with emerging medical technologies to ensure high-quality patient care.

The seminar concluded with an interactive session, where students and faculty engaged in discussions on how to apply these innovations in clinical practice. The event inspired participants

Activity Type	Quarter II, IIC Activity
Activity Name	Session on Initiating more community outreach programs
Date & Time	25 th May 2023
Venue	Seminar Hall, Narayana college of nursing

On March 24, 2023, Narayana Medical College hosted a session focused on initiating more community outreach programs, featuring insightful presentations by Dr. P. Venkatesh from Narayana Medical College and Dr. Kumari, Narayana College of Nursing. Dr. Venkatesh highlighted the critical role that healthcare professionals play in addressing community health issues through outreach initiatives, emphasizing the importance of understanding local health challenges and providing targeted interventions. He encouraged students to engage actively with the community, fostering relationships that promote health education and preventative care. Dr. Kumari underscored the significance of nursing in community outreach, discussing various successful programs that have improved health outcomes through direct engagement with underserved populations. She advocated for interdisciplinary collaboration among students from different healthcare fields to maximize the impact of outreach efforts. The session concluded with a brainstorming activity, allowing participants to generate innovative ideas for new outreach initiatives tailored to the needs of their communities. This session was a vital step in empowering students to take an active role in community health and reinforcing the importance of service in their professional development.

August 5 2021

As the first Activity of IIC, the 1st council Meeting organized on "Orientation session for the students and faculties of the Institute" about Innovation on August 5 2021 at Gray's Lecturer Galley, Narayana medical college, Nellore. The meeting was presided by Dr. SP Rao, Dean, NMC and IIC – president. It was convened and moderated by Dr. Sivakumar Vijayaraghavalu, IIC-Convenor, NMC. Administrative staff including Dr. Y.V Prabakar, Medical Administrator, NMC, participated. Dr. Kannan, Innovation Coordinator, shared his experience in finding a medical device that could be helpful in stabilizing the subjects' head while performing dental radiography.

The IIC is formed jointly by Narayana professional colleges which includes – Medical, Dental, Nursing, Pharmacy and Physiotherapy. The staff and student members from all these colleges attended the meeting. As well staff and student non-members attended the meeting out of their own interest.

Dr. SP Rao started his presidential address by greeting all the IIC members. In his talk, he emphasized the importance of Innovation, Invention and Entrepreneurship for the advancement of health care and national development and also he emphasized regular activities need to conduct to bring innovation among faculty and students.

The IIC – convenor, Dr. Sivakumar, gave a short presentation entitled strategies to promote Innovation, Invention and Entrepreneurship; and mostly re-emphasized the thoughts of Dr. SP Rao. In his talk he described about the activities that to be performed by the IIC.

Dr. Kannan shared his success story about his invention; he described the need for an instrument that will immobilize the head while doing radiography for children, geriatrics and disabled patients.

Dr. Sivakumar concluded the meeting by thanking the organization, dean and the participants

IIC – president greeted and welcomed all the IIC members. He thanked all the members for their cooperation and requested to conduct the activities for this academic year also. He informed the IIC members about the Ideathon (idea solutions for medical problems) which we are going to conduct on this first quarter. He explained that it will be a national level competition and requested each college within the campus to send the problem statements. So that it can be scrutinized and circulated to get the best solutions from brilliant minds across the nation. In his talk, he emphasized the importance of Innovation, Invention and Entrepreneurship for the advancement of health care and national development.

Mr. Shehebazuddin Shaik shared the hurdles faced during his childhood and the way he overcame all of it. The importance of money and the ways to attain were started rooting from his childhood onwards. As he was growing his thoughts matured and resulted in becoming an entrepreneur with good moral values. He is a self-learned IT professional; he nicely amalgamated his pharmacy knowledge and IT skills and started a firm – 14impressions, a writing firm started on 14th October 2020
